On behalf of the students, faculty, staff and families of the UF College of Medicine, we would like to acknowledge the individuals and organizations whose generous support of the construction of the George T. Harrell, MD, Medical Education Building has transformed medical education at the University of Florida.

"At a time when no state resources were available, the future of the College of Medicine seemed uncertain. Dean Harrell had to rely on the generosity of others to carry on the mission of medical education at the University of Florida. At a time when no state resources were available, the future of the College of Medicine seemed uncertain. Dean Harrell had to rely on the generosity of others to carry on the mission of medical education at the University of Florida. The generosity of others was instrumental in transforming the College of Medicine into a leader in medical education.

Thank you for your support. Dr. Robert B. Juarzo, ’79 and Mrs. Katherine A. Juarzo
The construction crew lifts the framework’s foundation, and the UF College of Medicine unveils the Harrell Medical Education Building. Construction remains on schedule.

Yesterday’s ribbon cutting for new UF College of Medicine building. Cost: $41 million, 31 raised, 15 financed, 0 state funds. #UFNewEra #UFNewLeaderships

Xavier Williams
First-year medical student
We have truly been blessed with a state-of-the-art facility that will greatly assist us in becoming amazing physicians, and will help our faculty and staff provide us with the highest standard of medical education. My mind is blown away and it’s only the first day of orientation! GO GATORS!
